PROJECTS

Sep 2021 — Dec 2021

UT Dallas Mobile Application Redesign

In the Fall of 2021, a group of 3 Computer Science students and I proposed a redesign of the UT Dallas mobile application that more efficiently provided students and faculty with essential resources, such as study rooms, campus currency balances, and volunteering opportunities on and near campus, to which we also presented a mock-up and recommendation. This redesign very closely resembled the eventual official overhaul of the application months later.

Feb 2022 — May 2022

Massively Multiplayer Online Role-Playing Game Database Skeleton

During the Spring of 2022, a couple of students and I were tasked with creating the skeleton of a database for a Massively Multiplayer Online Role-Playing Game, or an MMORPG for short. We created a database mock-up of the essentials that are commonly seen in this genre (such as Servers, Data Centers, Characters, Users, Subscriptions, etc.) through several weeks of planning, and then implementing our work in MySQL, additionally creating a GUI alongside in order to better demonstrate our project.
